Freddy the Fox - Chapter III

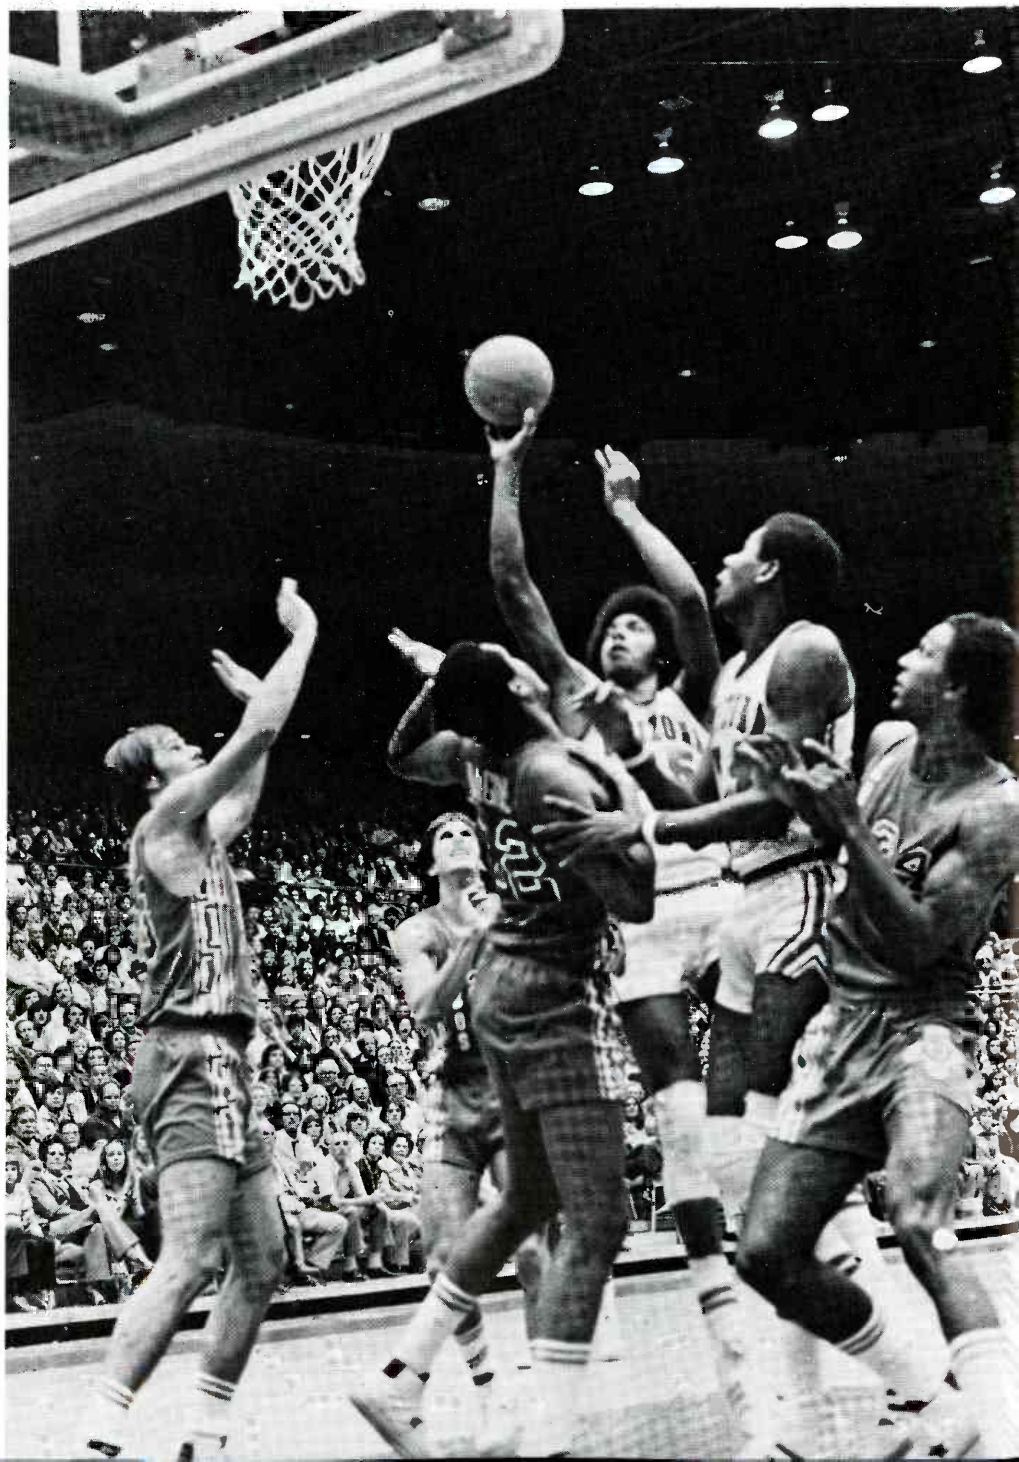

snowden's third wac chance

Fred Snowden found himself in a rebuilding year after being UA basketball coach for only three years. With the core of his fast-moving team, Eric Money and Coniel Norman, lost to the pros as sophomores, Snowden developed a slower game with team play emphasized to utilize the abilities of all players.

Junior Al Fleming played his most mature year with Bob Eliot playing inconsistently throughout the season although he remained the strong man at the boards. Starting freshman Gilbert Myles was the greatest new contribution to the team as he steadily controlled the Wildcat offense with a style reminiscent of Money.

The Wildcats lost a WAC championship bid for the third year of Snowden's tenure in mid-season with losses to CSU, Utha State, UTEP and ASU.

Arizona will be hard put to improve its record of a year ago. The Wildcats set school records for victories in the WAC and wins overall with a 16-2 league slate and 58-6 overall mark. Arizona easily won the Western Athletic Conference title and only an upset in the District 7 playoffs kept the number one Wildcats out of the College World Series.

The 'Cats figure to be one of the nation's top teams again this year. However they may find it a bit more difficult to dominate the WAC's Southern Division as easily as they did last year.

ua swimming

"The University of Arizona's aquatic future should be bright," swimming coach Bob Davis predicted at the beginning of his team's 1975 season. Davis cited the UA's excellent recruiting and the experience of the top returnees as factors that could win his team the WAC title in Spring '75.

Top swimmers this year are: Gordon Clevenger, junior, 200 yd. back stroke and individual medley; Jerry Dohner, freshman, free and breast strokes; Juddson Soane, senior, defending conference title holder in the 100 yd. back stroke; Bart Morris, freshman, diver; Tom Olson, freshman, freestyle; Don Winant, freshman, 400 yd. individual medley and 200 yd. breast stroke.

swimming

According to swimming coach Kathy Hawkins, the UA women's swimming team has "tougher teams, more depth, and higher quality swimmers." Hawkins is hoping that this year the team can push its way into the top 10 in the Intermountain Regional Conference.

With sisters Dana and Cindy Schraeder, Jill Strong, Sue Alexander, Carolyn Woods and Sue Durand all qualified for the Phoenix Nationals in two or more events, and divers Kris Tritz, Laurie Brunet and Janet Leopold qualified for the one and three meter boards, the 16th-ranked team has a good chance of finishing at least second in the region.

INTRAMURALS DIRECTORS: Dick Bartsch, men's director; Vicki Martin, student secretary; Dennis Brogna, student assistant; Dan Nordstrom, student assistant.

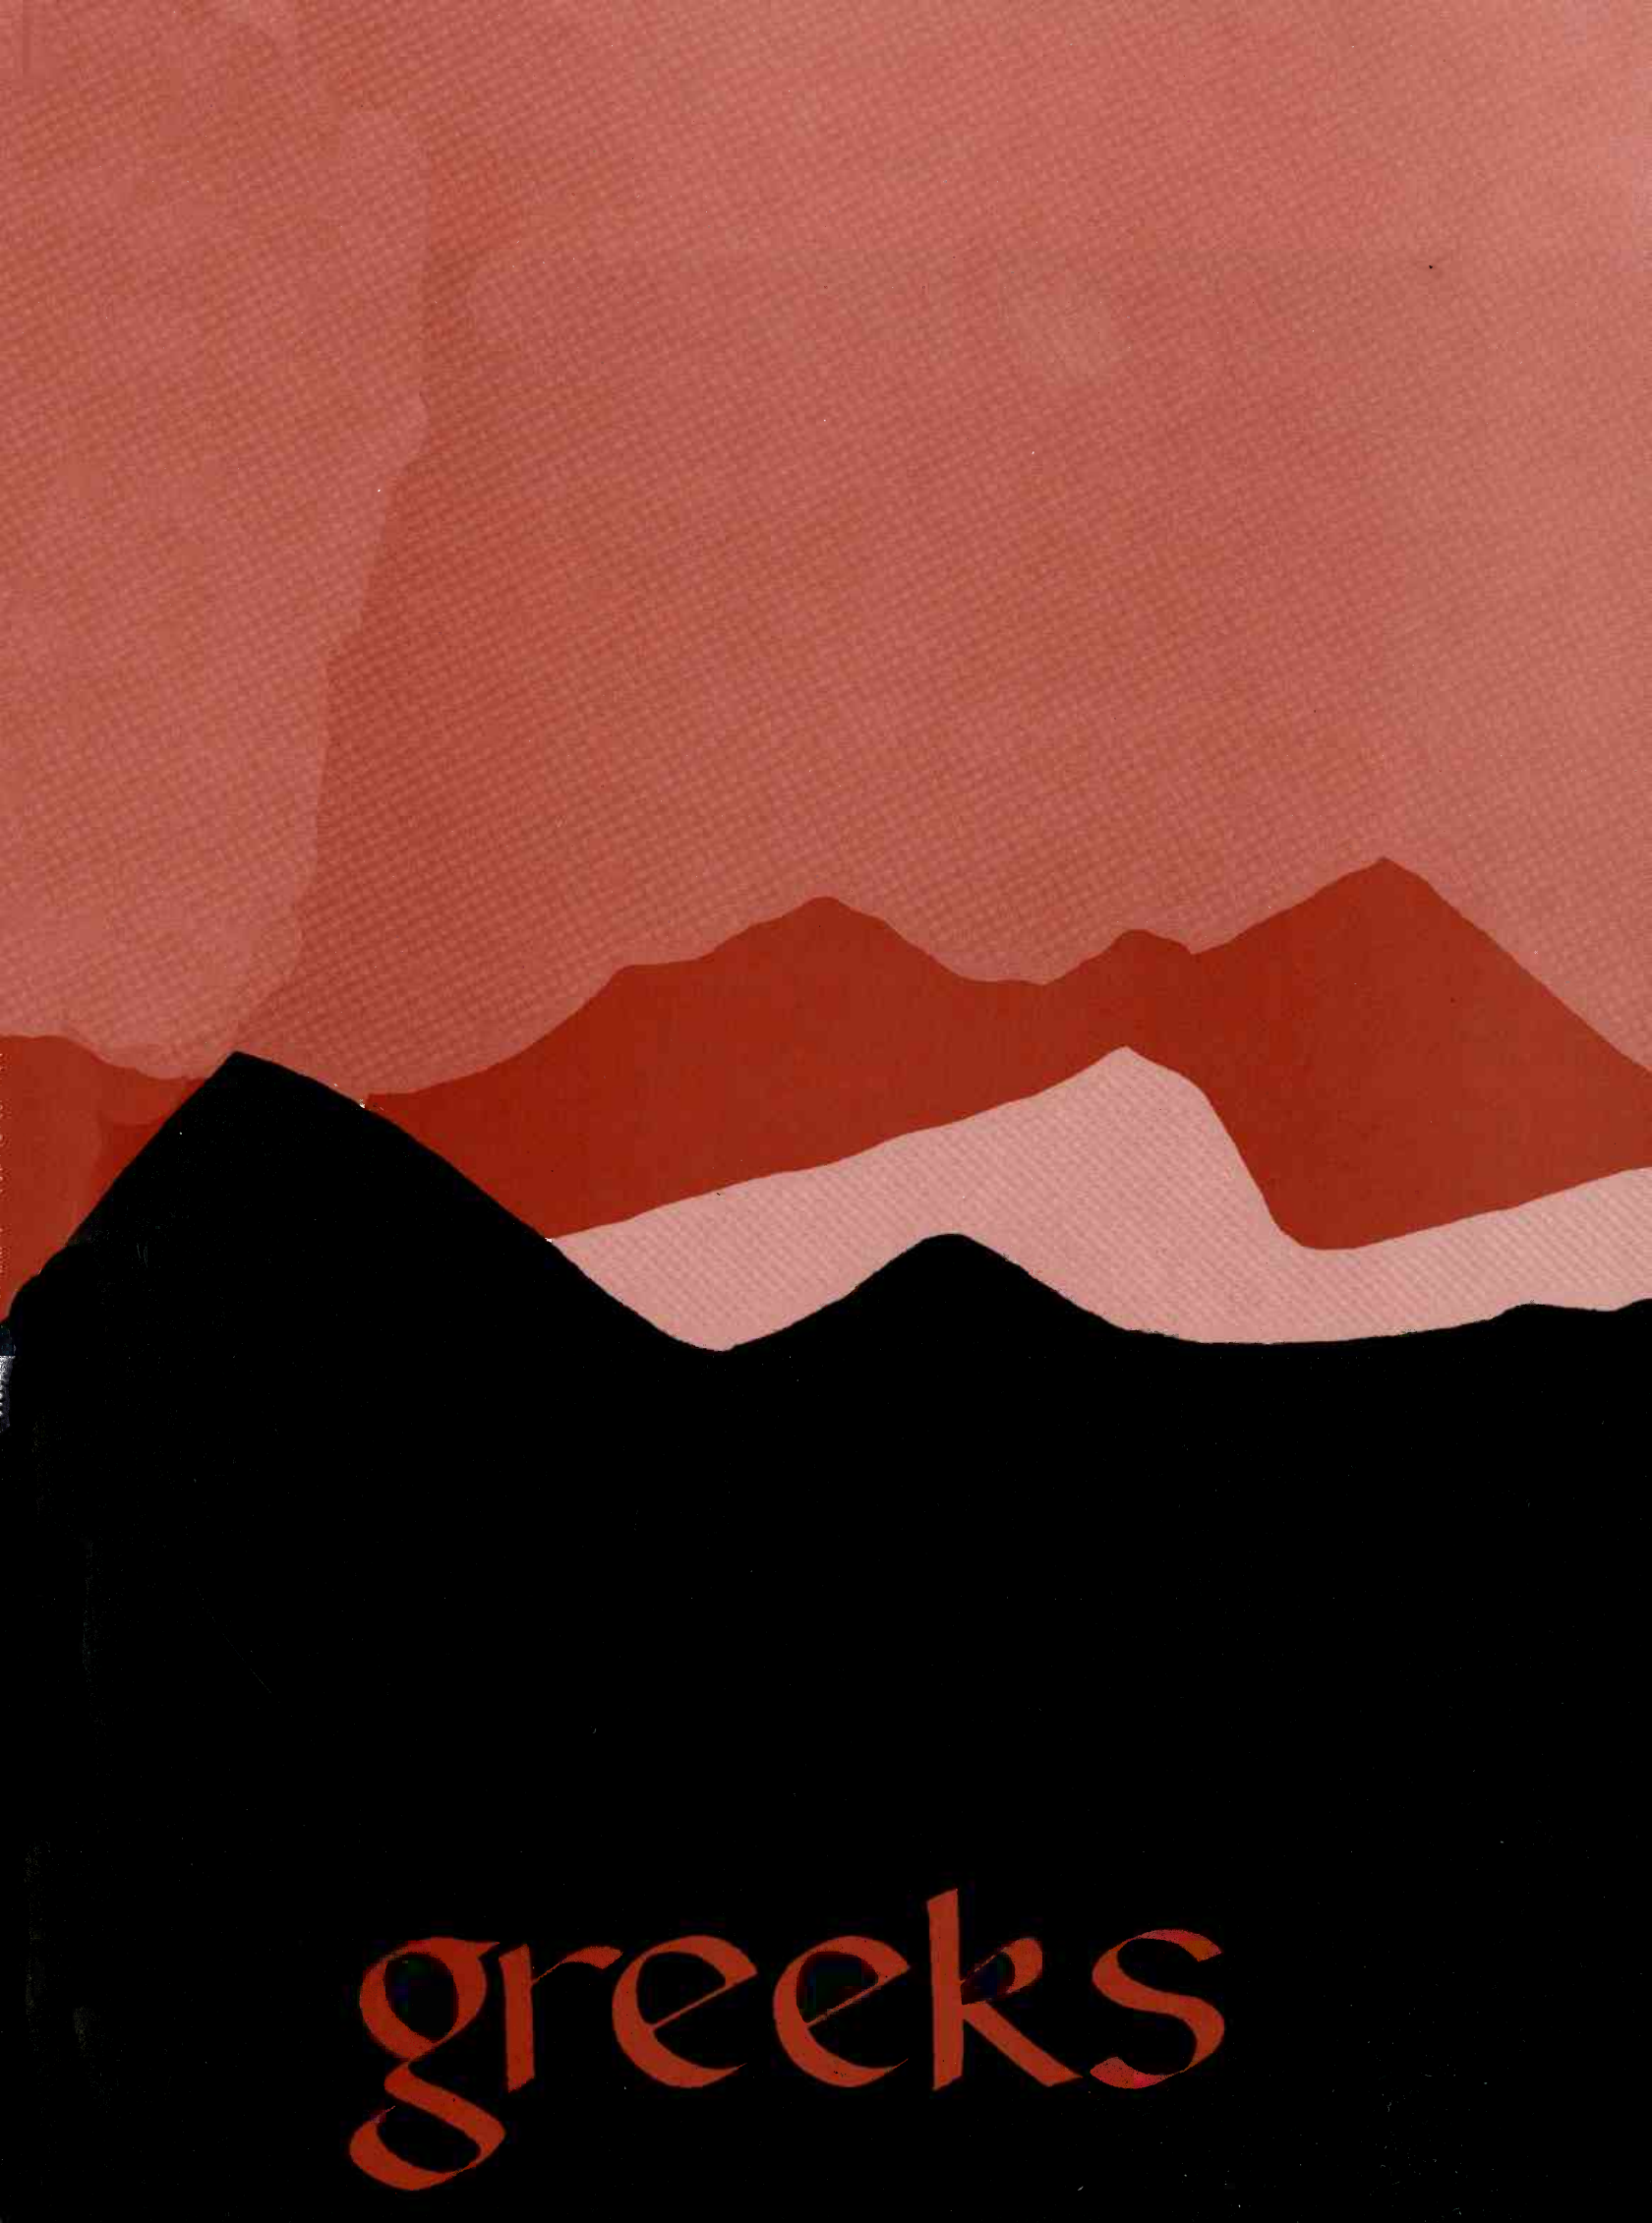

Intramurals exists as a branch of, and is dependent on, the Athletic Department. In the past few years this mini student-serving organization has expanded to serve not only the greeks, but a large part of the student body.

Intramurals includes everything from chess to table tennis to football, proving that competition exists in all aspects of student life.

The image features a stylized mountain range. The foreground is a solid dark area, possibly black or dark brown. Above this, the mountains are depicted in a layered, cut-paper style. The base of the mountains is a dark silhouette. The upper layers are in shades of red and orange, with a fine, grid-like texture. The background is a solid, deep red color. The overall aesthetic is graphic and modern.

"This is the year of the ASUA renaissance," according to Associated Students President Ken Sobel. ASUA was restructured this year with emphasis on efficiency, communications, services, public relations and the Arizona Student Association. By rearranging office space to make room for a comprehensive filing system and by hiring two full-time secretaries, the administration brought a sense of continuity to ASUA.

A Student Legal Advisory Program was set up to give free legal advice from a qualified attorney to any students with problems. ASUA representatives met with students from NAU, ASU and the Board of Regents during the year to get more voice in state legislation.

"We've set up a solid base," Sobel said. "This will be remembered as the year in which ASUA reorganized—the ASUA renaissance."

Broadening the scope of news for the students at the University of Arizona has been one goal of the Arizona Daily Wildcat this year. By assuming the responsibility of keeping the campus up-to-date on domestic and foreign affairs as well as university events, the Wildcat hoped to make the latest news within easy reach of both the students and the faculty. The Wildcat, with a circulation of 16,000, has maintained high journalistic standards in keeping with its image as a professional publication. Staffed by 30 paid members, the Wildcat does not require its reporters to be journalism students.

While yearbooks all over the U.S. are folding, the University of Arizona's Desert is alive and well. Having to change from a copy-filled, hardbound newspaper to a modern day magazine, the Desert this year is a pictorial representation of the school year's events.

camp wildcat

Camp Wildcat, an all-volunteer organization, sponsored several outdoor activities for underprivileged and emotionally handicapped children. Raising funds by sponsoring a bike-a-thon, selling Hallmark cards and receiving donations, Camp Wildcat was able to plan four campouts and two picnics over the first semester. By providing camps throughout the state, it was the goal of Camp Wildcat to give these children a chance to experience positive group activities such as dances, hikes and Olympic games as well as providing opportunities to study outdoor life in natural surroundings. Due to an ever-increasing campus support, Camp Wildcat membership—open to any university student or employee—continues to grow steadily each year.

concerned chicano students

The Concerned Chicano Students planned events for Cultural Week, discussed recruitment of Chicano professors, obtained President Schafer's approval of Chicano studies and elected new affirmative action officer.

you shall above all things be glad and young for if you're young whatever life you wear it will become you; and if you are glad whatever's living will yourself become girlboys may nothing more than boygirls need;

i can her only love whose any mystery makes every man's flesh put space on; and his mind take on time that you should ever think; may god forbid

and (in his mercy) your true lover spare:
for that way knowledge lies, the foetal grave
called progress, and negation's dead undoom,

i'd rather learn from one bird how to sing
than teach ten thousand stars how not to dance

e e cummings
